

FOUNDATIONS IN GENESIS GRAND CANYON TRIP

The college years can be very confusing and even troublesome for the faith of young people. To help provide some direction as these gifted young people prepare for life and ministry, we are offering a trip through the Grand Canyon that specifically addresses the struggles of the learner's heart and prepares the mind for action. Although designed for the college level student, all adults students (18 and over) are welcome. We will also work with any college to provide credit for the trip.

Teaching in Blacktail Canyon

This nine-day trip, scheduled for July 18-26, 2014, features seven days rafting 187 miles of the Grand Canyon. Although the rafts will navigate more than 100 rapids, these will not be the focus of the trip. Trained and experienced leaders will lead informative and scenic hikes in some of the side canyons, yet these will not be the focus of the trip either. The focus of the trip will be the foundational truths found in the first eleven chapters of the book of Genesis, and how they relate to the Grand Canyon. Students will learn how what is seen in the Grand Canyon, especially its geology, truly upholds and supports what we read in God's Word, and how it all ultimately relates to the gospel of Jesus Christ! Daily Bible studies and teaching will unpack the Scriptures in the depths of one of the most significant geologic features on earth.

The cost of the trip is only $2,395 round trip from Phoenix, AZ. The trip includes all lodging, meals and transportation from the time you meet the trip in Phoenix until you return.

The teaching staff for this trip includes two very experienced Christian leaders and outdoorsmen. Jon Albert, Director of Canyon Ministries, and Dr. Bill Barrick, Professor of Old Testament at The Master's Seminary.
